Dear Senator McCain,

I want to thank you for your response to my matter on April 29, 2009. I know you are a very busy man, and will respect your valuable time when forwarding relevant information in regards to my case. Human experimentation is a complex, though important matter facing our great country today. Especially when the subjects are dealt with without informed consent, such I have been.

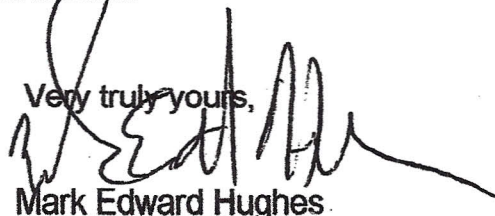

At this time, Senator Glenn has made great strides in the area. And together we can keep our strong American ethics in tact. While continuing to protect this great Country, and advance in the realm of science.

I do not know how or why I was placed in this position. One that is exactly on point with the National Security Agencies psychological operations projects. And one in particular. One codified the "CASSANDRA PROJECT". And if in fact our intelligence community has perpetrated this situation, it saddens me greatly. I have always been a strong supporter of our Country, Constitution and our Armed Forces. And still do.

Judicial reviews of privacy act requests are pending. I will forward all data as it becomes available.

Senator I will convey this. I do attribute many of my personal struggles as well as several individuals I have held dear over the past two decades to this situation. And together, we will get through this situation as stronger Americans.

Very truly yours,

Mark Edward Hughes
